SELF-GOVERNMENT-GUARDING THE EXPEN-DITURE OF MONEY-WHAT WILLIAM C. DE WITT AND DAVID J. DEAN ARE DOING.

William C. De Witt, of Brooklyn, and David J. Dean, Assistant City Counsel, of New-York, who were appointed by the Greater New-York Commission to draft a Greater New-York charter, are now hard at work on that important matter at the Long Beach Hotel. They are assisted by two clerks and two stenographers.

Mr. De Witt was seen by a reporter yesterday and in answer to a query as to how far the draft had been completed, said:

"The first section, which relates to the boundary lines and sub-divisions or boroughs of Greater New-York, have been laid over until a map of the new city is received from the State Engineer and the State Surveyor."

Section 2, which relates to the legislative department of the city, was drawn up by Mr. De Witt yesterday. It makes the legislative department consist of a city council composed of two embers chosen by what will be known as the Borough Boards of the City, of which there will be nine boroughs, or sub-divisions. Each Borard will consist of a small number of men elected for the purpose of taking care of business. The other branch of the legislative department will be a House of Aldermen onsisting of one alderman from each Assembly District in Greater New-York. Each resolution will be required to be introduced in either house and will be introduced in the form of a bill. A dution shall contain only one subject, and when introduced will be published by the corporation newspapers; no bill is to be put in line for passage until considered by a committee of either house. This is on a line of Federal legislation, closely resembling the method of the Senate and House of Representatives.

It will require a three-fourths vote to pass any bill expending money. Mr. DeWitt and Mr. Dean were at work yesterday defining the powers of the joint legislative

Mr. DeWitt and Mr. Dean were at work years day defining the powers of the joint legislative body of the city; compiling them, and picking out the strong points from the present charters of New-York, Brooklyn and St. Louis.

Mr. DeWitt said the borough system, of which so much has been said, is devised for the purpose of allowing the different boroughs home rule, and is not intended to divide or dislocate the city as a whole. It merely creates local boards which shall have supervision over local improvements, the boroughs having no power except as to local improvements, as all business relating to the city government proper is to be under the joint supervision of the legislative bodies.

He said the Suh-Committee on Draft will print each chapter of the charter when completed, and send a copy to each member of the Greater New-York Commission with such annotation and comment as the sub-committee deems proper, and such explanations as will enable the Commissioners when they meet in the fall to have a clear insight into the charter as drafted and permit them to thoroughly understand it. The Commission will then be able to go ahead.

In addition copies of each chapter of the charter as soon as completed will also be given to the press and public, so that they, too, may become thoroughly acquainted with what is being done.

OGDEN GOELET'S ILLNESS.

When asked if the rumor was true regarding the hot fight that was supposed to be going on over the office of secretary of the Board of Superintendents, Mr. Jasper stated that nothing had been done except the preliminary work of appointing committees and making arrangements for the opening of schools in the fall.

Several of Dr. Hunt's friends are anxious to secure for him the secretaryship.

RAINES INVESTIGATING HIS LAW.

FIRST MEETING OF THE SENATE'S SPECIAL EX

CISE COMMITTEE. Albany, July 15.-Senator Raines's special committee, appointed by the State Senate to inquire into the workings of the Raines Liquor Tax law. held its first meeting to-day in this city. The committee is to report to the next Legislature such amendments to the Raines law as experience may show to be desirable. The committee will investi-gate the practical workings of the law in regard to its administration, its effect in reducing or increasing the consumption of liquor, of increasing or decreasing criminal offences, or reducing or increasing taxation in the several municipalities of the state, the cost of administering the law and such other matters as may be deemed of importance.

The members of the committee present were Senators Raines, of Canandalgua; Nusshaum, of Albany, and Ford and Foley, of New-York City, Senator Higgins, of Olean, the other member, is in Europe. The committee decided that it had no power to appoint a clerk, and named A. B. Sackett, of Canandaigua, as stenographer.

The committee will meet again to-morrow morning and will collect the statistics regarding the operation of the new law, Senator Ford taking care of New-York and Brooklyn and Senator Raines the rest of the State.

The large rate of increase in the incorporations of social clubs with the Secretary of State since the advent of the Raines haw will also be considered by the committee. The number of such clubs incorporated from May 1 to July 13 was 534, as compared with 18t during the same period last Year. ing the consumption of liquor, of increasing or de

WORK DONE ON THE LAWS TO GOVERN CHILDREN OF THE TENEMENTS WEL-

HILLS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Ashland, Penn., July 14 (Special).-To-day marked the arrival here of the Fresh Air children, who have been planned for and talked about for so many weeks. There were 171 of them, all sent by The Tribune Fresh Air Fund among families who had invited them, and it is safe to say that their coming was a memorable occasion in the history of Ashiand. It had been looked forward to with the greatest interest and excitement. When the train rolled in the station and platforms about it were crowded to their utmost. Literally the whole town had turned out, and a throng of people were on hand to welcome the little visitors from the city The small boys climbed on top of freight cars on tiptoe to get a peep at the "Fresh Airs." the little people began to file out of the cars, and there were many "Ohs" and "Ahs." and exclamations of wonder and sympathy. No such incident as this has happened here in a long time. The seeing, and each one had his own comment to add to the talk. every one has been anxious to help along and make some city child happy and healthy. The work has been done energetically and thoroughly.

As soon as the children were safely on the ground they were divided into parties and taken to different churches, where the work of distribution was attended to. Everybody seemed desirous of having some one to take care of, and wherever a child looked as though unprovided for at least a dozen people pressed forward, eager and anxious to appropriate the little one. But each child had been assigned to its host beforehand, and none wished t. give up their little guests to any one else. When the children had reached here and were seen, the people were so pleased that invitations were extended to a dozen more on the spot, and these twelve will be sent off on the 16th. This makes a grand total of 182 children who are now starting out on a two weeks' vacation, the happiness and pleasure of which they will look back upon as long as they live.

It would be hard to convey by werds what an immense amount of good the earnest at a successful way in which this work has been put through here means, but if the people of Ashland could know what joy their kind invitations have brought to a legion of poor homes in New-York City, they would feel well repaid for their efforts.

HOW THE PAPERS STAND.

A SYMPOSIUM OF COMMENT FROM 123 JOUR-NALS ON THE POLITICAL ISSUES.

"The Public Opinion," of this city, prints this ments from 123 leading newspapers, in all parts the country, on the Democratic Convention and the ssues of the campaign. Of these fifty-eight are Democratic, twenty-eight are Republican, and ven are independent journals, or special organs of labor organizations, farmers, single tax ers, etc. Of the fifty-eight Democratic papers, thirty-two repudiate the platform, twenty-four of these also emphatically rejecting the candidates eleven either by implication, or in plain words advise Democrats to remain within the party line and vote for the ticket, with a reservation, if neces sary, regarding the financial plank; two declare for McKinley, three demand an independent ticket, fifteen declare for the platform and candidates, with free silver.

Of the twenty-eight Republican papers, four de-clare for silver, while four say that the Democratic party is dead or hopelessly disrupted.

Of the thirty-seven independent and special jour-nals, fifteen reject the platform and candidates, nine declare for McKinley, ten declare for Bryan, and two demand an independent Democratic ticket.

THE BOLTING PAPERS.

AGAINST A THIRD TICKET

From The Utics Press. From The Utica Press.

If there is no third ticket in the field the Democrats who cannot bring themselves to vote for a Republican can refrain from voting at all, and thereby do as much good as would be accomplished by having a third candidate in the race, who surely could not win. It would seem to be better to let the friends of sound money and the friends of depreciated currency stand up and be counted.

NO USE FOR ANOTHER TICKET.

From The Providence Journal. From The Providence Journal.

There is really only one good reason why a second Democratic ticket should be put up, and that is to afford an opportunity to those members of the party who, in the absence of any other Democratic candidate than Bryan, might vote for him under protest rather than violate all their political traditions by voting for a Republican; and it yet remains to be shown that there are enough such timid and hide-bound gold Democrats to be worth providing for.

IT WILL NOT FOOL WORKINGMEN. From The Chattanooga Times.

From The Chattanooga Times.

The gentlemen who talk of capturing the work ingmen of the country with catch-penny emblemed based on rodomontade eloquence of Bryan, will silp up. The workingmen have four months to think and read and listen, and at the end of that time they will vote like men of sense for their best interests, and not for any claptrap sentiment. They know that the froth of eloquence never filled a larder or gave them steady employment at good-

BRYAN STANDS FOR IT ALL.

From The Lacrosse (Wis.) Chronicle.

If there was nothing at stake but the individual Bryan would be tolerable; but there is at stake everything that the Convention by its platform, its personnel and its unwholesome acts from day to day, represents. Bryan, with his small experience, his emotional nature and his misguided start in politics, accepts everything undemocratic that the Convention is and has done. He, as a candidate, stands as the evolved result and expositor of it all. It is in this way he must be estimated and judged.

BEST TO SUPPORT M'KINLEY.

From The Milwaukee Sentinel. The supporters of sound money can do nothing more advantageous to their cause than to support the Republican ticket.

ITS MIND NOT MADE UP.

From The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser. It would be just as much a violation of Demo-cratic principle to vote for a Republican on a Pro-tection platform as for a Populist on a socialistic platform. Hence "The Advertiser" advises sound-money Democrats to keep cool and go slow. There is time enough yet to determine what is best to be done.

BRYAN SET THE EXAMPLE.

From The Detroit Free Press. Honest-money Democrats are not liable to studiffy themselves and forsake the sound economic principles they have upheld in the past in supporting a candidate who has denounced and threatened the party because it would not take up for a debased money standard and the repudiation of National obligations.

DEMANDING ANOTHER TICKET.

From The Louisville Courier-Journal. The demand by Democratis for a Democratic plat-form and a Democratic ticket grows stronger every hour. From all parts of the country the cry goes up for Democratic standard-bearers and Democratic principles for which Democratic can vote. This cry will not be stifled and will not be refused.

Dr. O. G. Cilley, Mr. Stetson's physician, and Dr. Noyes, a veterinary surgeon, who were witnesses to the will, did not answer to their names when called as witnesses, and they were defaulted, the former being understood to be away on his vacation. Charles H. Pattee, co-executor with Mrs. Stetson of the will, and John Stetson's intimate friend and counsel, then took the stand. He admitted that the testator was critically ill a year broken limb, but he maintained that Mr. Stetson's mental condition remained unimpaired. The witness testified regarding previous drafts of wills and hints about drawing them that had come to his notice. He admitted that when he married Mr. Stetson to Miss Stokes he delayed a long time before filing the return of the marriage with the Register of Marriages. Witness said he drew the will in January, 1885, and gave it to Mr. Stetson within a week of its preparation.

THE BOSTWICK TRUSTS HOLD.

SURROGATE FITZGERALD RULES THAT THE

created by Jabez Bostwick, who died in 1892, are subject to the transfer tax fixed by the appraiser, 1889, and February, 1892, the deeds being in favor of his daughters, Fannie E. Carstairs and Nelli Morrell; his sisters, Martha Wyatt, Sarah A. Robinson and Emeline Caltrider; his brother, Abner F Bostwick, and other relatives. He made a provision, however, that he had power to terminate the trusts at any time in his lifetime. The beneficiaries asserted that the trusts were not testamentary, and therefore not subject to the tax. They appealed, but the Surrogate has upheld the tax.

In sustaining the report, the Surrogate holds that if the contention of the persons who appeal were correct, there would be an easy way in which to avoid the transfer tax. It would then be possible, he says, for the owner of a large estate to execute a deed in his lifetime providing for the deposit of the bulk of the estate, to withdraw the same from the trust, and, as was done in this case, shortly before death, redeposit the securities with the trustee and thus try to evade the payment of the tax.

PRANK MAYO'S PROPERTY.

Letters of administration were yesterday granted to Edwin Frank Mayo on the estate of his father, Frank Mayo, the veteran actor, who died on a fail-way train out West a few months ago, when he was travelling with his company in "Pudd'nhead Wilson." The value of the estate in this State is given as $1,000.

THE ESTATE OF GEORGE LAW.

Alga Law, the willow of George Law, applied to the Surrogate yesterday for letters of administracently at No. 259 Fifth-ave. The petition requests that William Steinway be named as co-administrator. The other heirs-at-law are Mrs. Haines, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Williams, sisters of the dead man. The estate is valued in the papers at $1.50,000 in personal and $100,000 in real property. C. Bain-bridge Smith made the application for Mrs. Law. Mr. Law left no will that can be found.

It is reported that the sisters of the dead millionaire are opposed to the granting of letters of administration to the widow on the ground that she is under age. The attorney for the sisters is John M. Scribner, of No. 2 Wall-st. trator. The other heirs-at-law are Mrs. Haines,

EXPLOIT OF IGNORANT POLICEMEN.

THEY DEMAND THAT A BRITISH VICE-CONSUL HAUL DOWN THE BRITISH FLAG.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 15 -At a meeting of the Police Commissioners yesterday a sensational communication from J. W. White Mortimer, the British Vice-Consul in this city, was made public. Mr. Mortimer complains that, on the morning of July 4, three officers of the police force, accompanied by a number of other persons, called at his office and demanded that he either haul down the British flag or hoist the Stars and Stripes beside it. Mr. Mortimer declined to comply with their request, whereupon they threatened forcibly to tear down Company, which is now playing at Terrace Garden, the flag, intimating that should be prevent their doing so a riot would surely follow when the procession reached the Consulate. Mr. Mortimer remained firm and the officers withdrew and threat-ened to report the matter to the Chief of Police. This official says that the officers acted wholly without his authority or knowledge, and their be-havior was the most flagrant display of ignorance he ever heard of. The offending policemen were promptly suspended and ordered to appear before the Board at its next meeting and show cause why they should not be dismissed. mained firm and the officers withdrew and threat-

EVACUATION'S CENTENNIAL.

A DAY OF CELEBRATION AND SPEECHMAKING IN OSWEGO.

Oswego, N. Y., July 15.-An immense crowd was in attendance at the centennial of the British evacuation of Fort Ontario to-day. The morning trains brought large crowds from the surrounding viilakes and cities and remote parts of the State. Business was generally suspended.

Many notable persons were present, among them General Miles, accompanied by his wife and daughter; Capitain Michier, of his staff; Lieutenant-Governor Saxton, General Horace Porter, Colonel Lyster and staff, U. S. A.; Lieutenant-Colonel Thomas Ward, U. S. A.; Colonel Sumner, U. S. A.; Colonel Ashley W. Cole, private secretary of Governor Morton: Senators Joseph Mullen and N. N. Stranahan and Mayor James Maguire, of Syracuse: ex-Senator George B. Sloan gave a reception for General Miles this evening. A dinner was given for visiting officers of the National Guard and the Army.

George Clark, of this city, delivered a historical address this afternoon, and General Horace Porter was the orator of the day. A procession formed at 2 o'clock, and from fifteen hundred to two thousand members of the National Guard of the State were in line, besides the 9th Regiment of Infantry of the United States Army, stationed at Sackett's Harbor, and a large number of civic societies.

The buildings in the business part of the city were covered with bunting, and nearly all the private houses were decorated with flags.

DIAMONDS STOLEN BY SNEAK THIEVES.

MRS. WALTER SLOPER LOSES A DOX OF JEWELRY VALUED AT $2,500.

Walter Sloper, of No. 122 Vanhouten-st., was retiring to-night she went to the dressing-case to secure her box of diamonds and place them under her pillow. She found that the box was not in its usual place. Her husband was called and a vigorous search was made, but no trace of the diamonds could be found, and Mr. and Mrs. Sloper concluded that sneak thieves had entered the house in their absence. The robbery was reported to the police. The diamonds included a necklace, crescent brooch and several rings, valued altogether at $2,500. Walter Sloper is a well-known horseman and has been ter Stoper is a well-known horseman and has been a familiar figure in the betting ring on every race-course in the country. He spent the winter in Washington and returned North when the big tracks opened. The police have endeavored to keep the robbery secret. Their investigations thus far have availed nothing.

After one of them has shown that they are fully up with the fashions of the day by riding a bicycle on the tight rope, they give way again to the ur-gency of the war, and the cause of Cuban freedom is speedily and pyrotechnically triumphant. The display of fireworks at present is as brilliant as usual, and it grows better after Havana has fallen into the hands of the patriot forces. Mr. Pain's exhibition is one of the most pleasing of the efforts to entertain the visitors at Manhattan Beach, as it never falls to be.

MR. BROOKFIELD SAILS AWAY.

HE SAYS A FEW PARTING WORDS ABOUT THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY ORGANIZATION. William Brookfield, who was one of the passen gers on board the White Star steamship Teutonic which left this port for Liverpool yesterday, said just before sailing that he was making the trip abroad in company with his three sons, H. M., Frank and Morgan. He will meet his wife on the other side, and the whole family will remain in Europe about a month.

"I am in good health and spirits," he added, "and I expect to have a good time and enjoy a much-needed rest." Mr. Brookfield was asked by the re-porter what he thought of the published reply to the recent charges of fraud made by the Anti-Machine men regarding the aileged padding of

"Have you read the reply?" the reporter asked.
"Yes," was Mr. Brookfield's answer, "but the socalled reply does not answer the charges of fraud because they are true and unanswerable. I told the State Committee at the time I presented the petition that the Republican county organization was a fraud. So fraudulent was it that no true and loyal Republican owed any allegiance to it whatever, and that the man who represented it at the meeting held his position under such circumstances that no honest man could or would accept it. I say the same now."

Memorial Resolutions. At a meeting of the Directors of the Bowery Bank, of the City of New-York, held in the 14th day of July, 1806, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Resolved Than the Directors memory this public expression of their respect and regard.

Resolved, That the recent death of Henry P. De Graaf, in the midst of an honorable and useful career, is deeply lamented by his associates now here assembled, and is regarded by them not only as a loss irreparable to his family and to his many personal friends, but also as a public calamity; that, while his friends and associates cherish, in their stret, the remembrance of his virtues, which won for him their esteem and commanded their respect, the public is called upon to deplore the loss of one eminently distinguished in mercantile life, and for unremitting diligence and stainless integrity in the various trusts which were reposed with him. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased as an expression of our deep sympathy and condelence.
